

Ms. Aashi Bhavnagari

General Secretary
2016-2017

People say that SPB English Medium College of Commerce is an institution providing opportunities for excellence and being an integral part of this institution means a lot to me especially when it celebrates its Silver Jubilee.

The moment I first stepped in the college I was uncertain about myself. The pressure of my dreams and expectations started to crumble my self confidence. But as I met other students and made friends, I realized that I was strong and capable of achieving my goals. My parents always taught me to face challenges and move ahead. No matter how difficult the path I tread on, I was always encouraged to make persistent efforts and prove myself a winner.

When I became the General Secretary of the College, more than a few eyebrows were raised regarding my abilities to perform my duties. To be frank that worried me a little but I was no stranger to hard work and selflessness and with the support from my teachers, parents and friends I took up the challenge and gave my best.

My training as N.S.S. volunteer instilled in me the spirit of service and groomed my personality as a dedicated student leader. The N.S.S. slogan "Not me but YOU" boosted me up to serve my fellow beings. I promise to serve my college and nation in years to come.

I wish the college GRAND SUCCESS in all its endeavours.
