EDITORIAL

Dear Readers,

It is with great pride and exuberance that I present before you the fourteenth issue of the college magazine INDEX. Current academic year 2018-19 has been a momentous journey for the institute both in academics as well as on the co-curricular and extra - curricular front. I am happy to be given this opportunity to spotlight the activities and achievements of the year.

INDEX retains its image as a platform for sharing of information as well as showcasing talent and achievements of students and faculty. The magazine is a modest attempt to trace the growth of the institute and the progress made by the faculties and students in their respective areas of interest. This issue brings forth academic pursuits and accomplishments of faculty by way of Faculty Development Programmes, workshops, seminars, conferences attended as well as organized and also brings to light laudable achievements of students in academics as well as activities related to sports, cultural, debate and elocution, et al. The magazine bears testimony to the extensive research activities undertaken at the institute and also highlights activities of social service and nation building - NSS and NCC that speak of the support and encouragement provided by the Principal and the managing body of the institute.

My sincere thanks to all who have made their valuable contributions and provided timely inputs to make the release of this issue possible. I take this opportunity to wholeheartedly thank our Principal Dr. V. D. Naik for his continuous encouragement, guidance and support which makes this issue possible.

The editorial team has put in commendable efforts for the timely publication of INDEX- 2018-19. I extend my sincere thanks to all the committee members for their cooperation.

Thank you all.

The World is the great gymnasium where we come to make ourselves strong.

Swami Vivekanand

From the Principal's Desk

SPBians have always lived up to the college mission - maxim SPB - Study - Perform-Blossom with their fervent thirst for knowledge, their efforts towards excellent performance resulting in career advancement and the overall development of their personality. Their excellence in academics as well as in co-curricular and extra - curricular activities is a matter of great pride for the institute. The reports of the various committees, academic investments of faculty and other information provided in the magazine - all corroborate the growth and development of the college. I take this opportunity to whole heartedly appreciate our students engagements and members of the teaching as well as administrative staff for their untiring, persistent efforts and accomplishments as I forward the fourteenth issue of INDEX. At this juncture I consider it to be my proud privilege to highlight areas of notable achievements during the current academic year.

Our students have performed exceptionally well both at college level as well as university level examinations, thus continuing with the trend of excellence in academic performance. Their active participation in the Finishing School project supported by KCG as well as the 36 Hour Tally with GST Certificate Course conducted by our college speak of their positive attitude towards learning.

Along with academics, sports has always been the forte of SPBians. Our students represent our college and the university at various inter college, inter university and inter-state competitions and have bagged a number of prizes both in individual as well as team games. This year we have to our credit 6 Gold, 8 Silver and 6 Bronze medals awarded for excellence in sports activities.

Our students' wholehearted involvement in cultural activities has been rewarded with more than 7 prizes at the university youth festival. These include 'Rasik' awarded BEST PLAY and C. C. Mehta Best Acting Female and Male prizes; Group Song 3rd prize; Mono Acting 3rd prize; Light Vocal Music 1st prize; Handicraft 3rd prize. 'Mud Walk' - play performed by our students at the 63rd All India Drama and Dance Competition won the First Prize. Again our college was invited by Door darshan for a Garba performance which got telecast on the national TV channel DD Girnar. These achievements are a feather in our cap indeed!

Our students with their exceptional oratory skills have won more than 20 prizes at various debate, elocution, essay writing events at university and state level competitions.

Installation of Smart Boards in all classrooms as well as successful completion of the RFID arrival into library security - all highlight our efforts towards enhancing learning through technology aided gadgets.

The staff members are actively involved in research activities and updating of knowledge in their respective areas of study. One student has been successfully guided for Ph.D and more than four are due for final assessment. They have participated and presented papers at various seminars, conferences at state, national and international level and have also rendered their services as resource persons and have authored and co-authored a number of books.

This is the third consecutive year that our college organized One Week Faculty Development Programme on “Integrating ICT in Research and Teaching” and the second consecutive year that we organized State Level Drama Workshop.

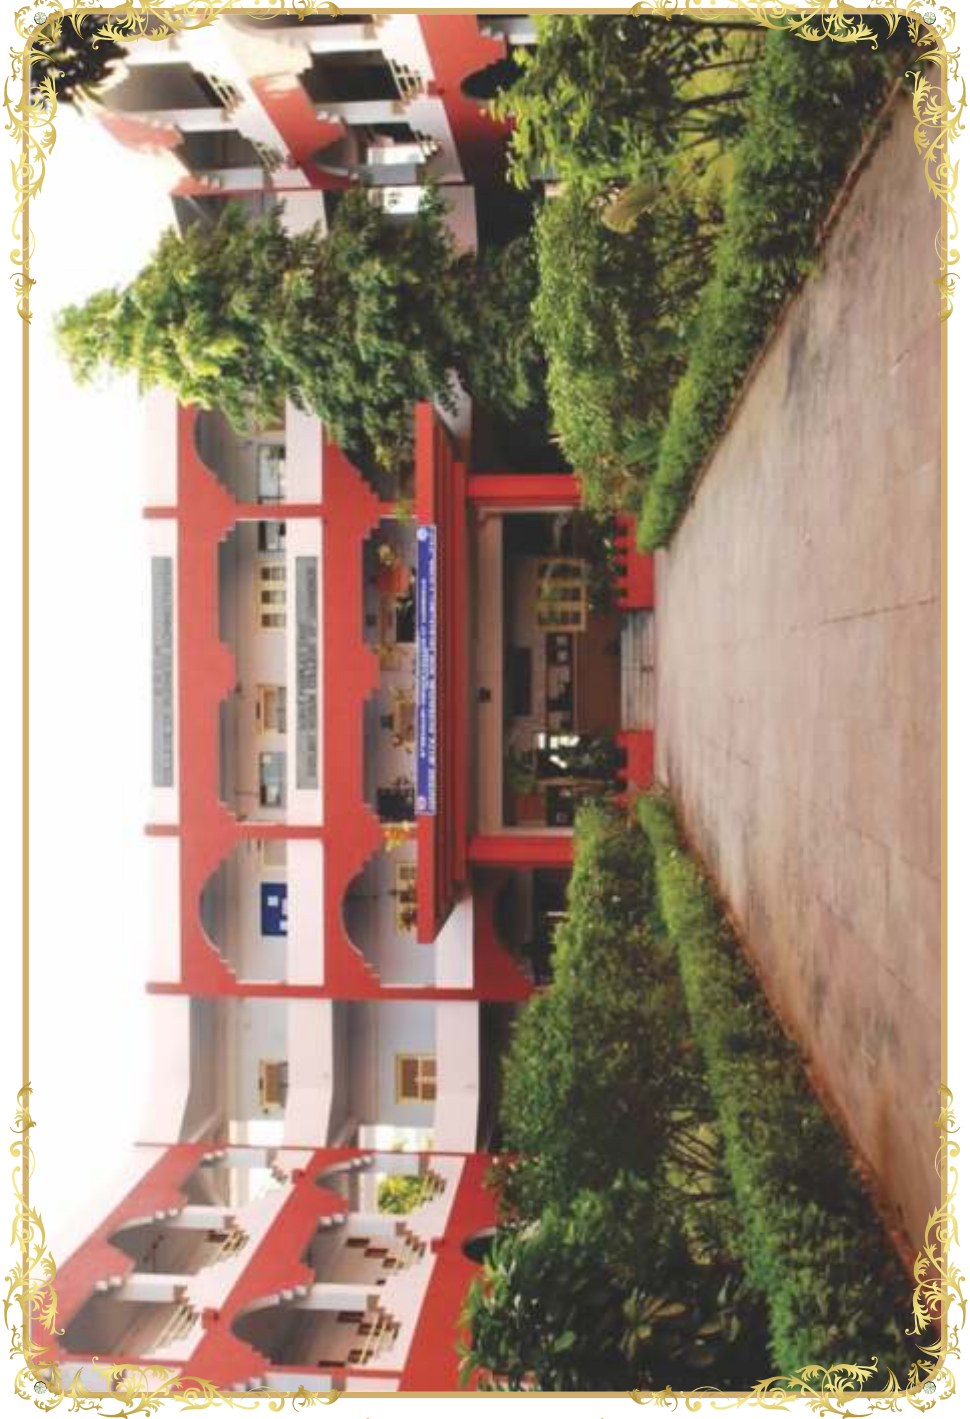

The Career Guidance and Placement Cell of the college has been instrumental in counseling students on career options and prevalent job opportunities. This year 13 students have been short listed/ selected for vacancies in areas of banking, insurance and marketing.

The above highlights bear testimony to the potential and excellence of our students and staff and their whole hearted efforts towards the growth of the institute.

On behalf of SPB College, I take this opportunity to extend my good wis hes to T.Y.B.Com and M.Com-II students for a bright and prosperous future and a healthy and fruitful life. May God shower His choicest blessings on them.

I also express my gratitude to the Office Bearers of our management -Sarvajanik Education Society for their constant support and guidance in all our endeavours.

I sum up with my sincere compliments to students and staff for their accomplishments and extend good wishes to all SPBians for all their future engagements.

About Duty-based ethics in personal, familial, social and professional life

Dr. Vipin D. Naik
Principal

Introduction

Ethics is a branch of philosophy addressing questions and rules about morality. Ethics is concerned with what is good for individuals, families, societies and the professions. The term 'ethics' is derived from the Greek word ethos which has meanings like custom, habit, character, disposition etc. concerned with what is good for the group of individuals, institutions, society etc. and it is described as moral philosophy. The simplest definition of ethics is that it is a system of moral principles which affects people's decision making and way of their personal, familial, social and professional lives.

The concepts of ethics have been derived from religions, philosophies and cultures. The debates on topics like abortion, human rights professional conduct etc. mainly arise due to conflicting ethics among the group of individuals, institutions, societies etc.

Types of ethics:

Depending upon the two different ways of looking at the morality, Ethics is divided into two types. The Consequential ethics and the Non-Consequential ethics

Consequential ethics:

In this type of ethics, the morality of the act is determined by the outcomes of that act. What make the act wrong or immoral or unethical are the consequences. Under this philosophy of moral rules, lying is legitimate if its aim is to get out of a serious problem, such as to save a person's life. In other words an out and out lie like can be ethical if it is practiced with the aim of attaining the desired positive consequences / outcomes.

Non-Consequentialethics:

In this type of ethics, the morality of the act is determined by the sources like: law, God's law, moral law, sense of duty, and one's own definition of what is the virtuous thing to do. All those considerations are inherently contained into the act itself without considering its consequences / outcomes, irrespective of whether they makes it right or wrong. One classic example of this type of ethics is act of 'lying'. Under this philosophy of moral rules, lying is immoral and therefore unethical even if its aim is to get out of a serious problem, such as to save a person's life, because it t is a violation of the nature of speech. It's wrong to use a lie even to achieve a good end. Under this philosophy, ultimately a lie is a lie, is a lie.

Duty-based (or Deontological) ethics:

Duty-based(Deontological)ethics are concerned with what people do without considering the consequences of their actions. They do the things because they believe that they are doing the right thing, they are doing thing because it is the right thing to do, they do not do wrong things; and on the other hand, they avoid a thing because they believe that they will not be doing the right thing and they cannot do such things because it is wrong to do such thing.

The word 'deontological' comes from the Greek word deon, which means 'duty'.

Duty-based ethics are usually what people are talking about when they refer to 'the principle of the thing'. Some kinds of actions are wrong or right in themselves, regardless of the consequences. Therefore, under this form of ethics one cannot justify an action by showing that it produced good consequences. Hence, this ethics is considered as 'non-Consequential' ethics.

Some characteristics / beliefs of followers of Duty-based ethics:

The actions of followers of duty-based ethics are driven by their staunch beliefs about the right things or wrong things. They possess strong beliefs that the sorts of things they are it is their duty to act accordingly, regardless of the good or bad consequences that they may result into.

Some of the most common characteristics / beliefs of Deontologists are that they believe that (i) it is wrong to kill innocent people, (ii) it is wrong to steal, (iii) it is wrong to tell lies, (iv) it is right to keep promises, (v) people have a duty to do the right thing, even if it produces a bad result, even if that produces more harm (or less good) than doing the wrong thing.

When a Deontologists is compared with Consequentialists one can see that Consequentialists begin by considering what things are good, and identify 'right' actions as the ones that produce the maximum of those good things. Whereas the Deontologists appear to do it the other way around; they first consider what actions are 'right' and proceed from there.

Benefits and limitations of duty-based ethics

(1) It emphasises the value of every human being:

Duty-based ethical systems tend to focus on giving equal respect to all human beings. I t also creates a basis for human rights because it enforces due regard to be given to the interests of a single person even when they are against the interests of a larger group.

(2)It provides a degree of 'certainty':

Consequentialist ethical theories bring some degree of uncertainty to ethical decision-making, because, due to the unpredictability of the future, no one can be certain about what consequences will result from a particular action. Whereas duty-based ethics don't suffer from this problem because they are concerned with the action itself, if an action is a right action, then a person should do it, if it's a wrong action they shouldn't do it. Thereby it provides that if there is a clear set of moral rules to be followed then a person faced with a moral choice should be able to take decisions with reasonable certainty.

Sometimes consequentialist theories can provide a fair degree of certainty, if the consequences are easily predictable. Moreover, rule-based consequentialism also provides people with a set of rules that enable them to take moral decisions based on the sort of act they are contemplating. However, it may be noted that so far as predictability of consequences is concerned, things are not always that clear cut.

(3)It can also deal with intentions and motives:

Consequentialist theories do not pay direct attention to whether an act is carried out with good or bad intentions as long as the consequences are highly relevant to moral judgements. On the other hand, Duty-based ethics can include intention in at least three ways. (i) If a person did not intend to do a particular wrong act and it was just an accident perhaps, then from a deontological point of view one might think that they had not done anything deserving of criticism. This also seems to fit with ordinary thinking about ethical issues. (ii) The other way of including the intentions is to frame the ethical rules narrowly so as to accommodate the morally correct intentions. (iii) Though, the Duty-based ethics generally sets absolute rules, by building a list of exceptions to the rule, one can deal with the cases that do not seem to fit.

(4) It allows acts which make the world a less good place:

Since, the duty-based ethics is not interested in the results; it can lead to courses of action that produce a reduction in the overall happiness of the world. Most people would find this to be not fitting with their overall idea of ethics particularly when it is hard to believe that it could ever be a duty to deliberately produce less good when we could produce more. Further, it is also difficult to reconcile conflicting duties because it does not deal well with the cases where duties are in conflict.

Conclusions: For leading a relatively less stressed personal, familial, social and professional life it is necessary to have a set of duty based ethics which can help in lessening the analysis of consequences of the most commonly encountered decisions one has to make in personal, familial, social and professional life which have not so easily foreseeable consequences and their criticality. When the worst possible consequences of alternative decisions are easily foreseeable then one can try out a decision based on set of ethics which is a sort of balance between consequential and non-consequential ethics provided that the risk involved in taking such a decision is non-critical to his long term personal, familial, social and professional goals. For the frequently encountered decisions, which are relatively non-critical, one can also have a list of exceptions which be resorted to as a deontologist.

Marathon - A Race of Glorious Uncertainty

Dr. AshokKumar Saha
Physical Instructor

Introduction

All is well that ends well. And that is not to be at the 28th Athens Olympic Games. On the last day of the Games, the last event was Marathon race. It commenced at 2030 hours Indian Standard Time. The eyes of the whole world were glued to the television screen. The Marathon runners were following the same path which Pheidippides ran to Marathon race has been introduced since the beginning of the modern Olympic Games. Vanderlai de Lima of Brazil was running ahead of all other competitors at a good pace. All of a sudden, five kilometers from the finish, de Lima was grabbed and knocked off the course and bundled into the crowd by an intruder. Television watchers and the spectators were stunned by the heinous attack on de Lima and horror-struck. Chaos and terror prevailed for sometime amongst the spectators. Bewildered de Lima managed to extricate himself from the assault but was clearly shaken by the incident. After recovering from the initial shock when de Lima started running after 15 minutes, he knew that his chance of winning the Marathon race was lost. He could not make good the loss of the precious time. Vanderlai de Lima got a standing ovation from the spectators in Panathinaikos stadium when he finished third clocking 2:12:11.

Who was this intruder dressed in a kit and beret? His name was Cornelious Horan, aged 57. He was a mentally imbalanced Irish Jesuit driven out of the church and a chronic disrupter of sporting events. He lived in London and arrived in Athens in the dawn of 29th August. A Greek court fined him 3000 Euro and he was sentenced to 12 months imprisonment for his misdemeanor.

There are many aneedotes on Olympic Marathon race. But, the Olympic runners have never met such kind of impediment and threat. This was the beginning and henceforth, security arrangements were tightened during the course of running to avoid recurrence of similar incidents of attack on the athletes. When Pietri was forty meters from the finish line. Hayes entered the stadium and crossed the finish line in 2:55:18.4. The American lodged a protest that Pietri was assisted to recover after he collapsed on the track. Pietri was disqualified and Hayes was declared winner. The committee had done what it felt just. The Italians were disappointed and pietri held that he could have finished without assistance. It may be of interest to know that to store energy, Hayes spent two days in bed prior to the race.

Pietri's disqualification became a controversial issue. Spectators were unhappy and vehemently protested against the decision. Should he be disqualified after such a heroic performance? Pietri was helped by the officials when he fell for third time 10 yards from the finish line. Even an official held his arm when Pitri crossed the finish line. If rules are to be strictly adhered to, the decision of the committee was just. But the bone of contention is whether Pietri sought help of the officials or the officials voluntarity assisted him. Pietri was helped not by his well wisher but by the track officials on their own. Should Pietri be punished for no fault of his? Spectators had full sympathy for Pietri and the decision of disqualifying Pietri was unacceptable to them. Even Queen Alexandra was moved by Pietri's heroic performance. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the great English writer, has described the 1908 Marathon run with the following sentence. “It is horrible, yet fascinating, the struggle between a set purpose and an extremely exhausted frame.” This is a fitting tribute to Pietri.

At the presentation ceremony, the Queen summoned Pietri to the Royal Box. The spectators welcomed him with deafening applause. The Queen presented him with a magnificent gold cup in recognition of his extra ordinary performance. Bewildered Pietri was charmed and overjoyed. He kissed the cup and went around the track. The entire stadium rose to greet Pietri who had become the London hero. The official presentation ceremony was withheld until he had completed his lap of honour. The Queen's decision to honour Dorando Pietri by offering a gold cup was a fitting acknowledgment to Pietri's great athletic prowess.

There are a few things in common between the two Marathon heroes. They got tremendous ovation from the spectators when they completed their races. Both of them were awarded special prizes after their misfortune. Vanderlai de Lima got the rare Pierre de Coubertin medal from the International Olympic Committee. Dorando Pietri received a gold cup from the hands of Queen Alexandra. No Olympic athlete has ever been honoured before or after 1908 by the British Royal family. It still remains a dream for de Lima to win a Olympic gold medal. For Pietri, it is a matter of the past.

દિકરી તો વ્હાલનો દરિયો

પ્રા. અજીત એન. નાયક

વ્હાલા મિત્રો,

મોગરાની મહેક, ગુલાબની ભવ્યતા, પારિજાતની દિવ્યતા, કોઈ ઝાંકળબિંદુમાં એકઠી થાય ત્યારે પરિવારને દિકરી પ્રાપ્ત થાય છે.

અને હા, દરેક દિકરી રૂપરૂપનો અંબાર નથી હોતી
દરેક દિકરી સ્માર્ટ નથી હોતી પણ
દરેક દિકરી ચાર્મિંગ અને ચેલેન્જિંગ હોય છે.
દિકરી એટલે.... લક્ષ્મીનો સાક્ષાત અવતાર

દિકરી ને જનમવા દો.....
દિકરી એટલે પ્રેમનું પવિત્ર ઝરણું
દિકરી એટલે લજ્જા અને શીલનું સૌંદર્ય
દિકરી એટલે પ્રકૃતિની અણમોલ દેન
દિકરી એટલે સૃષ્ટિ સર્જનારી
દિકરી એટલે વંશ-વેલો વધારનાર
દિકરી એટલે દાદાની મૂડીનું વ્યાજ
દિકરી એટલે આંગણે શોભતો તુલસી ક્યારો
દિકરી એટલે વ્હાલનો દરિયો
દિકરી એટલે સ્નેહનું ઝરણું
દિકરી એટલે સર્જનહારનું સર્વોત્તમ સર્જન
દિકરી એટલે બે કુળની તારણહાર
દિકરી એટલે મા-બાપની આંખોનું રતન
દિકરી એટલેમમતાની મૂર્તિ
દિકરી એટલે નારાયણનું રૂપ
દિકરી એટલે આવતીકાલનું ભવિષ્ય
દિકરી એટલે આંગણાની શોભા
દિકરી એટલે પરિવારનું અણમોલ આભૂષણ
દિકરી એટલે ઉંબરે મૂકેલો દીવો
દિકરી એટલે સમાજની આંખ અને રાષ્ટ્રની પાંખ
દિકરી એટલે સમજણનું સરોવર
દિકરી એટલે નિર્મળ નિતર્યું ઝરણું

આદરણીય શ્રી ગુણવંત શાહ કહે છે તેમ :

જેના ઘરે દિકરી ના હોય, તે પછી ટાટા હોય કે બિરલા હોય, અંબાણી હોય કે બિલગેટ્સ હોય, એના જેવો ગરીબ માણસ આ પૃથ્વી પર કોઈ નહિં હોય.

અને હા, એવું કહેવામાં આવે છે કે, મારી દિકરી સવાયો દિકરો છે !! પણ એવું નથી કહેવાતું કે, મારો દિકરો સવાઈ દિકરી છે !!

દિકરીનો જન્મ માનવજીવનની તમામ સમસ્યાઓને ઉકેલતું વરદાન છે.

દિકરી તો પારકી થાપણ નહીં, આંખની પાંપણ છે.

દિકરી સાપનો ભારો નહીં, તુલસીનો ક્યારો છે.

શકુંતલાને વિદાય આપતી વખતે મહર્ષિ કણ્વે અનુભવેલી તીવ્ર મનોવ્યથાનું મહાકવિ કાલિદાસે સર્જેલું શબ્દચિત્ર આજે પણ સહૃદયી ની આંખોને ભીની કરે છે. જુઓ, મહાકવિ કાલિદાસ કહે છે :

''यास्यत्यद्रय शकुंतलेति हृदयं संस्पृमुडकंठया
कंठ स्तंभित बाष्यवन्ति कलुषं चिन्तजडं दर्शनम्:
वैकलव्यं मम तापदीदशमहो स्नेहादरण्योकस:
पीडयन्ते गृहिण: कथं नु तनया विश्लेषदु: खैर्नवे:''

અર્થાત : શકુંતલા આજે જશે એ વિચાર માત્ર મારા હૃદયને વ્યથાથી ઊંડે સુધી વલોવી નાંખ્યું છે. અશ્રુવહન રોકવાથી મારો કંઠ રૂંધાય છે. મારું દર્શન ચિંતાથી જડ બન્યું છે. સ્નેહને લીધે મારા જેવા વનવાસીને (પાલક પિતાને) પણ જો આવું દુ:ખ થતું હોય તો અરેરે ! પુત્રી વિયોગના નામ દુ:ખથી ગૃહસ્થીઓ કેવા પીડાતા હશે !!

રાજર્ષિ જનક રાજાની અત્યંત તેજસ્વી કન્યા, સીતામાતાજી ખેડૂતવૃત્તિના પિતા જનકને ખેતરમાં હળ ચલાવતી વખતે પ્રાપ્ત થયેલી તેથી ''અયોનિજા'' હતી. અને મોટી થઈ પછી પિતા જનકની ''આત્મજા'' બની રહી. વાલ્મિકી રામાયણનાં એકજ શ્લોકમાં (બાલકાંડ : ૫૬, ૧૫) માં આવા બે સુંદર શબ્દો સીતાજી માટે પ્રયોજાયા છે.

રાજા જનક દુ:ખી હતા, કારણ કે સીતા જેવી તેજસ્વી કન્યા માટે યોગ્ય વર મળવો દુર્લભ હતો. દ્રોપદીના પિતા દ્રુપદનું દર્દ પણ લગભગ આવું જ હતું. કારણ કે દ્રોપદી, તેજસ્વિની, ઓજસ્વિની અને મનસ્વિની એવી ગુણસુંદરી હતી.

આજે પરિસ્થિતિ જુદી ખરીચ

આજે પણ અત્યંત તેજસ્વિ દિકરીનો બાપ અંદરથી દુ:ખી હોય છે. આથી દિકરીને સમજી શકે અને સમાવી શકે એવો સમર્થ જમાઈ ક્યાંથી લાવવો ?

Self Appraisal

Krina Vankawala
(T.Y.B.Com.)

A little boy went into a drug store, reached for a soda carton and pulled it over to the telephone. He climbed onto the carton so that he could reach the buttons on the phone and proceeded to punch in seven digits (phone numbers). The store-owner observed and listened to the conversation.

Boy: Lady, Can you give me the job of cutting your lawn?

Woman: (at the other end of the phone line): I already have someone to cut my lawn.

Boy: Lady, I will cut your lawn for half the price than that charged by the person who cuts your lawn now.

Woman: I'm very satisfied with the person who is presently cutting my lawn.

Boy: (with more perseverance) : Lady, I'll even sweep your curb and your sidewalk, so on Sunday you will have the prettiest lawn in all of Palm beach , Florida.

Woman: No, thank you.

With a smile on his face, the little boy replaced the receiver. The store-owner, who was listening to all this, walked over to the boy.

Store Owner: Son... I like your attitude; I like that positive spirit and would like to offer you a job.

Boy: No thanks.

Store Owner: But you were really pleading for one.

Boy: No Sir. I was just checking my performance at the Job I already have. I am the one who is working for that lady I was talking to!

Moral: This is what we call 'Self Appraisal'. Every time if we don't get ahead of others, we blame others for it. We should look to our self and compare, find our weaknesses and work hard to overcome weaknesses. Always Work Hard, with honesty and with full Dedication. It will always pay.

Success v/s Failure

Krina Vankawala
(T.Y.B.Com.)

There was a very brilliant boy. He always scored 100% in Science. He got Selected for IIT Madras and scored excellent in IIT. He went to the University of California for MBA. He got a high paying job in America and settled there. Later he married a Beautiful Tamil Girl and bought a 5 room big house and also owned luxury cars. He had everything that makes him successful but a few years ago he committed suicide after shooting his wife and children.

So, WHAT WENT WRONG?

California Institute of Clinical Psychology Studied his case and found "what went wrong". The researcher met the boy's friends and family and found that he lost his job due to America's economic crisis and he has to sit without a job for a long time. After even reducing his expected salary amount, he didn't get any job. Then his house installment could not be paid and he and his family lost thier home. They survived a few months with low money and then he and his wife together decided to commit suicide. He first shot his wife and children and then shot himself. It was concluded that the man was programmed for successes but he was not trained for handling failures.

Now let's come to the actual question, what are the habits of highly successful people?

First of all, there are many people who will tell you how to achieve success but today I am telling you that the best success habit according to me is getting trained for handling failures. I also request parents to not only groom children for success but also to teach them how to handle failures and also mentor them in important lessons about life.

Mastering science and maths will help them to clear competitive exams, whereas knowledge about Life will help them to face every problem. Parents should help them find their passion because these degrees will not help them in their life crisis.

A successful person is one who has learnt how to cope with failure.

Increment and End – What a Wonderful Relationship

Ms. Pankti B. Shah
(Visiting Faculty in English)

An increment leads one to joy and happiness
but,....
at the same time....
It takes one closer
to the end.....!!!!

Relations and feelings also,
becomes more faithful
as well as fruitful
but.....
in the course of time...!!!

A seed,
Represents beauty
As a plant .....
Still....
It is noticed only,
When it bears
Beautiful flowers
And
Sweet fruits
Which are to fall down ....!

A bud,
Is always cherished..
As
Flowers are yet to grow...
It dies
as soon as
It changes into a flower...!

And,
Again,
Development,
Though brings happiness,

Leads to death...!
As
Each sun
That rises with new hope,
Sets, too,
Sometimes earlier,
Sometimes later,
Yet all contains
A value.
A value,
Of giving happiness.

Although we know,
As much closer we are
To happiness,
Much closer we are,
To the end
Yet which plays
An important role,
Is journey....
Beautiful !
Memorable !

What a wonderful relationship it is,
Between,
Happiness and end !!!

Librarian Development Programme - 2019

One day National Librarian Development Programme was organised at SPB English Medium College of Commerce, Surat on Saturday, 6th October 2018.

LDP started with a prayer, the inaugural function started by taking the blessings from Shri C S Jariwala, Chairman, Sarvajanik Education Society, Surat and Dr. Hemali Desai, Dean of Faculty of Arts and the Principal of ROFEL College, Vapi. The key note speaker at the function was the honourable General Secretary, MANLIBNET Dr. Akhtar Parvez, Chief Librarian Maulana Azad National Urdu University, Hyderabad. Dr. V. D. Naik, Prinicipal, SPB College, Shri Bharatbhai Shah, Chairman of our College Local Administrative Committee brought grace to the dais and a well-meant vote of thanks by Dr. Heena Oza, chair person, IQAC made the inaugural function an enjoyable impetus.

The number of participants was 52 and an agglomeration of librarians from school libraries, college libraries, technical institutions like ITI, Polytechnics, Medical colleges and local state and private universities.

The active sessions started with Dr. S. K. Patil, former Chief Librarian SP Pune University, on “Open Access E Resources in Sciences and Social Sciences.” It was a worthy session as Dr. Patil discussed in detail the free and open access e- resources available. There was a decent amount of query about these E Resources.

Second Session was taken up by Dr. Akhtar Parvez, Chief Librarian Maulana Azad National Urdu University on “Subscription of E Resources Issues and Challenges”. Real time issues like MOU, contract documents and Terms and conditions in the MOU etc were discussed in a dynamic manner. He also gave a piece of advice to the participant librarians to have a credit card in the name of the principal for making online payments. It was avery interactive session as many doubts of participants were unfolded.

Third session by Dr. T. S. Kumbar, Chief Librarian IIT Gandhinagar, on “Predatory publishing" dealt with the risk of going into the hands of such publishers. The session focused on the working ways of such publishers with un- realistic or impractical impact factors and ISSNs and ISBNs and dubious international stature given to their publication. Role of UGC in removing and regularising the list of journals was also discussed.

We authorized the Pearson Inc., to take up and demonstrate the "E- Book" concept, their procurement mode and the access issues in detail in the post lunch session. This is because of the fact that the e-books from Pearson's were found to be popular among our students in their access and also content-wise.This was also found to be a successful interaction section more than what was expected.

We at SPB were delighted to see the electrifying presence of some of the MANLIBNET office bearers at the LDP. At the conclusion session the participants' feedback was sought. Active involvement of the participants and the energetic and friendly interactions from the resource persons made the day comprehensively creative and productive. I thoroughly thank the MANLIBNET in general and Dr. Mita Rathod in particular especially for the help extended in organising the Librarian Development Programme at SPB. I thank profoundly our dynamic Principal Dr. V D Naik and the ever smiling and overwhelmingly supportive SPB Family for making this day in SPB chronicle.

Library Activities

For much of the 20th century, the role of academic libraries was relatively stable and secure, but in recent years that role has been evolving, as digital technology has transformed research and scholarship. In the existing academic sessions, we at SPB made important steps towards articulating our vision of a life-long learning through electronic resources and gadgets while at the same time continuing to progress on our 2020 Strategic Plan for building the library of the 21st century at SPB. A major piece of news this year was the integration of electronic resources into the library's organizational structure. These additions to our family are designed in part to support the library's enhanced role as a hub of learning supporting the holistic development of our students and bringing to the fore the unique spirit of integrated and engaged learning. Other highlights this year included the completion of the RFID arrival into the library security which is celebrated among the students as a bit empowerment in tracking their accounts. We have worked hard this year to enhance the student experience, advance research and scholarly communication, equalize and engage with our student and faculty communities, and develop our team. We believe these efforts are starting to bear fruit, and are proud of the many milestones outlined in this report. I am enormously grateful to everyone who has contributed to our success, the Principal, the library staff, faculty members, students, and members of our administration department.

It was another busy year for our collections, student spaces, and more. Here are a few highlights.

The Pearson's digital library for E Books and the Emerald E journals are the valuable addition in the library. Many students and faculty are regular users and benefitted by these E Resources.

The Library has been a retreat, where the users could clear their head and recharge on poetry, fiction, and biographies, in a quiet corner in an otherwise fast-paced student life.

For the research students, their interests and inquiries combined to create impactful and inter-disciplinary work with the e resources at their fingertip made the library a happening hub.

As a future course, we at SPB library would like to announce a new series of awards available to undergraduate students to recognize those who demonstrate exceptional use of any library resource/s as part of their regular course work. Two awards, first and second place, are available to only first year student, and another two to any students in their second or third year.
